ABSTRACT

This research aims to examine the audience's understanding of religious tolerance at Stand Up Comedy shows on YouTube channels through Stuart Hall receptions. The researcher focused on the comedy show “Kita Harus Ilang Abis Ngomong Ini Kayanya” on Deddy Corbuzier's YouTube Bene Dion edition. This research uses a reception analysis method using primary and secondary data sources which aims to examine how individuals interpret and understand tolerance in the Bene Dion edition of Deddy Corbuzier's Stand Up Comedy on YouTube. The sampling technique uses purposive sampling and uses 3 main elements in the reception methodology, namely the collection, analysis and interpretation of reception data. The researcher carried out the validity of the data using a type of source triangulation. The sources can be categorized into Stuart Hall's meaning positions, namely Dominant hegemonic position, negotiated position and oppositional position. The results of this research show that from the five informants, there were 4 informants who were in the Dominant position and 1 informant who was in the Negotiation position. The differences in meaning conveyed by the informants are influenced by the different backgrounds each informant has, such as educational background, professional background, and a person's point of view in understanding religious tolerance.
